

Basic fire safety

Duration:

e-Learning module

Objective

Current legislation, The Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005, applies to all workplaces regardless of the number of employees and requires employers to provide adequate training in fire awareness for all members of their staff. Our online fire safety training courses are aimed at all employees to assist them in identifying and reducing the risk that fire presents in the workplace.

Contents

This course is only available in an e-Learning format, click here for more information.

Who should attend

This e-Learning courses is suitable for all employees.

Course benefits

e-Learning modules can be completed at your own pace and whenever you like!

Additional information

Throughout 2014 and 2015 we will be introducing many more of our Management Skills training programmes into our e-Learning suite. Watch this space!

Certificates

Personalised e-Learning certificates will be supplied for every delegate who completes their online module.

Trainers background

This is tutor lead video based online learning content.